"I've always been fascinated by trees.

Big trees, exotic trees, bare trees, colored trees or just common green trees.

For me, there is nothing in this amazing World that can be compared to the fresh smell out of a thousand shadows dancing in the wind while the sun bathes them with the miracle of life. I could not live without them.

Thank you Inspiring Trees."

Inspiring Trees is the essence of a personal fascination. Slender, geometric and seemingly minimal, is a lighting piece fully executed in brass which carries form, image and meaning and wants to pass a message of equality among the numerous species of trees without highlighting any particular example or feature.

In the 'treetop', the detailed hammered handcrafted work for visual transformation of the material, captures the richness of light and shadows present in any real tree, leaving a serene brightness take care of its trunk and base.

The light is distributed by the three levels of the 'treetop' and diffuses, controlled by the geometry of several overlapping pieces, lighting the surrounding space in an unexpectedly way; almost ethereal.
