Description

Bastone is a collection of floor lamps in three sizes. The underlying concept if the lamps is the ability to customize the lamp with the various handles options, stems and shades. The user can choose to make the light to his taste. Ideal for any room in the house. You can move and place them where you want with complete ease.

Technical Details

The collection Bastone is a series of floor lamps. The metal structure can be a smooth metal column or polyurethane expanded in two versions: spheres and disks. They are lacquered in white or black. Three handles in different shapes and colours are offered for medium and small versions, and three different finials in brass for large version Bastone. The model is available in white or black and in three sizes (small, medium and large). The shades are in Chinz white or black. The dimmer is located in the handle.

Designer

Jaime Hayón was born in Madrid in 1974. His career has taken him all round the world, to cities such as Los Angeles, Paris and Hong Kong, and Treviso (Italy), among others. Jaime Hayón's work has transcended the barriers between two worlds that have always been apart: art and design. Thus he has created a style of his own. Multitalented creator as he is, Jaime Hayón has worked in a variety of areas, including restoration, fine arts and design. Americas, Bastone, Josephine mini and Las Santas are fruit of the agreement on exclusivity (regarding to the lamp design) between Jaime Hayón and Metalarte. Jaime Hayón new collections will come over the following months.
