

Collection of Stoneware Hot Water Bottles

SOR27443 Collection of 5 19th Century Stoneware Hot water bottles.

The hot water bottles shown are ceramic but were often referred to as "stone" because heated stones and bricks were a common method of keeping hands and feet warm. As well as being used in beds these hot water bottles could be carried on journeys. Hand and foot warmers were a very welcome addition to any long journey!
